Sunnyslope Estate will make every effort to carefully screen each resident, in order to ensure that every resident will adapt to the home environment and to accurately assess an appropriate monthly rate. However, every resident is admitted on a temporary basis for up to thirty days.

During these thirty days, if it is determined that the resident will not be admitted on a permanent basis, every effort will be made to accommodate the resident until the responsible party or guardian can locate suitable housing. However, if the resident becomes unmanageable, we reserve the right to discharge the resident immediately.

During these thirty days, if it is determined that the resident will require more care than was originally estimated, the monthly rate will be adjusted accordingly. If an agreement cannot be reached than the responsible party or guardian has the right to relocate the resident, paying only the prorated amount based on the original rate (up to one month). If a refund will be due, it will be prorated from the date the resident's personal belongings are removed from the premises.

If an admitted resident condition shows a significant change beyond the abilities of Sunnyslope Estate, a Physicians assessment will be requested. If it is determined that the resident has developed care needs beyond the scope of our home a 30 day notice will be given to the responsible party asking that the resident be moved to a more appropriate environment. Sunnyslope Estate will make every effort to facilitate this move in the best interest of the resident.

We will not discriminate against anyone based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity or age.
