Cabanas Law Firm

August 2020

Good Morning!

One of the toughest tasks that you may face as a parent going through a divorce is figuring out the best way to tell your children.

In this month's edition of our e-newsletter, we offer you 4 tips for how to tell your children about your decision to divorce.

Thank you for your support of our firm. If you know anyone who could use the information in this newsletter, feel free to forward it on to them. If you have any questions about this month's topic, please contact us today.

Have a wonderful day,

4 Ways to Help Your Children Process Your Divorce

Depending on the exact circumstances surrounding your divorce, you might have had months (or even years) to prepare for the day that you finally serve your spouse with divorce papers. It can be a liberating feeling if that day is a long time coming, but someone very close to you who may not have sensed anything wrong with your marriage is your child...

COVID-19 Update

WE ARE OPEN AND OPERATING

While courthouses remain closed, our legal team is able to attend hearings, mediations and certain trials by Zoom, depending on the judges. This is helping our clients complete their cases sooner and definitely reduces travel time for everyone. In order to protect our clients and staff, our client appointments are still conducted by Zoom or telephone, where possible. As the world is becoming more comfortable with Zoom, clients are finding this to be a convenient way to meet with us as well.

We also took advantage of the reduced visitors to our Firm to spruce up our office with a new coat of paint and a little redecorating - check it out! The team loves the fresh and clean new look!
