

On behalf of all of us at Workforce Career Readiness™, I am pleased to announce the "Class of 2020" of 100 High School Students America Needs to Know About™. You should be extremely proud of your accomplishments. You worked exceptionally hard to earn this distinguish recognition.

I know that you have a lot on your mind with the COVID-19 pandemic and how it has changed life as we know it. We are experiencing an unprecedented stressful time. Some of you have already missed out and others may miss some of your signature rites of passage such as (junior and senior prom, the senior trip, championships, tournaments, competitions, and awards ceremonies).

I know you may be disappointed about some of your high school rituals being cut short. However, treasure the memories of those years of fraternization and camaraderie. Use this time to prepare for the next exciting chapters in your life.

If something is on your mind about college, careers, entrepreneurship, or career technical education, I am here to assist you. I know this is not the spring that you have planned for but know that your futures are brighter today because of your challenges you have overcome yesterday.

Please stay in touch via social media, phone, text, or email. I look forward to seeing the wonderful world that all of you will create.

Stay safe and healthy!

Educationally yours,
